

SpatioTemporal Analysis of Ethnic Conflicts and Human Rights Violations in Africa and the Middle East

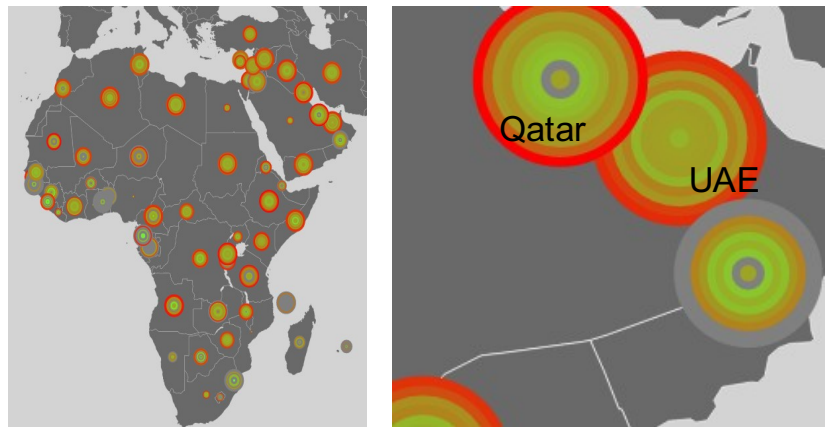

Anirban Chakraborti<sup>1</sup>, Kiran Sharma<sup>1</sup>, Aditeya Pandey<sup>2</sup>, Kaushal Paneri<sup>2</sup>, Siddharth Verma<sup>2</sup>, Gunjan Sehgal<sup>2</sup>, Bindu Gupta<sup>2</sup>, Geetika Sharma<sup>2</sup>, Lovekesh Vig<sup>2</sup>, Puneet Agarwal<sup>2</sup>, Gautam Shroff<sup>2</sup>

<sup>1</sup>School of Computational and Integrative Sciences, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi, India <sup>2</sup>TCS Research, New Delhi, India

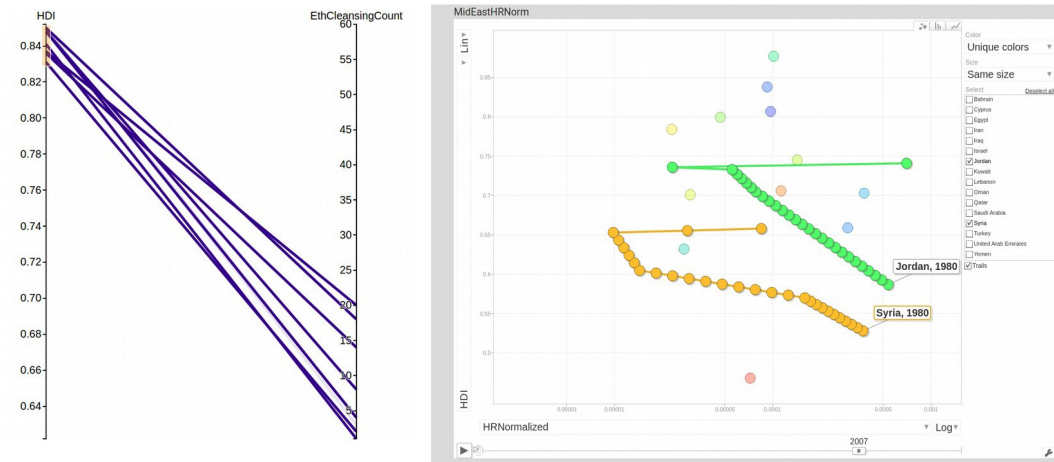

We have focused on the studies of Ethnic conflicts and Human Rights violations, and their relations with socio economic factors in certain countries of the African continent and the Middle East using GDELT and the HDI data.

Spatiotemporal distributions of ethnic conflicts and human rights violations

Trends and impact of ethnic conflicts and human rights violations from media reports

Statistical analysis of HDI and correlations with the media reports of ethnic conflicts and human rights violations